Pan American Health Organization

Regional Office of the World Health Organization

01/2010.06 Regional Platform for Access and Innovation for Health: Implementation Table

27 – 29 October 2010

Washington – D.C.

1st STEERING COMMITTEE MEETING OF THE REGIONAL PLATFORM
FOR ACCESS AND INNOVATION FOR HEALTH

Washington, D.C., 27, 28 and 29 October 2010

Regional Platform for Access and Innovation for Health: Implementation Table

Pan American Health Organization
2010

Regional Platform for Access and Innovation for Health:
Implementation Table

Input Processes	Outputs	Outcomes	Impacts
Resources and processes utilized to produce a change/result	Short-term change, effects, and results	Intermediate change, effects, and results	Long-term change, effects, and results
CONCEPT DEVELOPMENT • Conceptual framework development • Internal and external consultations • Activities characterization ARCHITECTURE DEVELOPMENT • Advisory for prototype development • Platform development • Software and architecture development • Hosting and Maintenance • Standards CONTENT DEVELOPMENT • One stop access to regional NDF directory developed and integrated with priority medicines list • Establish framework and specify indicators for R&D&I capacities mapping • Develop integrated database of basic innovation and access indicators • Develop integrated database on regulatory and governance aspects of pharmaceutical sector • Topic specific information based on priority areas • Develop learning opportunities for HR development to support all areas of access and innovation for health SOCIAL NETWORKS • Expert and institutions locator tool • Communities of practice • Networks maps • Innovation forum to match demands and solutions for innovation for health COMMUNICATION STRATEGY	Increased visibility of National Drug Formularies (NDF) and ability to contrast them with the WHO model list of essential medicines Quality, accessibility and transparency of information on access to health products, rational use of medicines and health technologies and health technology assessment are improved Information on all aspects rational use, access, policies and regulations, quality, production and R&D of medicines and health technologies is integrated in a comprehensive manner and from a public health perspective Governance, policies and regulations are well defined and information is easily accessible Innovation gaps and needs receive more visibility and attention	Improved and developed HR competencies in all areas of innovation for health Participative knowledge base developed Increased and improved regional cooperation on governance and implementation of innovation for health Increased and improved regional cooperation on governance of pharmaceutical sector and development of policies and interventions to improve access to health products. Innovation for health projects integrated and coordinated at national, sub-regional and regional levels Expenditures on high cost medicines not supported by evidence are reduced Innovation Promotion and funding for high priority areas increased Definition of Innovation gaps and TOR products needed Evaluation strategy provides a transparent outcomes and results that allow stakeholders to assess the project	NHA information and knowledge management capacity strengthened and partnering capacity with knowledge producers improved to direct needs-driven research NHA strengthened in its regulatory and governance functions for the pharmaceutical and innovation for health sectors Access to essential medicines and health technologies (HT) improved Rational use of medicines and HT improved Innovation and transfer of technology for health promoted to served regional health priorities Exchange and transparency of information facilitated Regional Innovation for health systems strengthened and contribute to increase health equity in members countries The Platform will become a dynamic instrument that responds to user's needs and demands and focus on

Input Processes	Outputs	Outcomes	Impacts
DEVELOPMENT • Disseminate and communicate to stakeholders and interested parties about the Platform and promote their active participation GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT STRATEGY DEVELOPMENT • Define governance model and structures, roles and responsibilities • Resource mobilization to ensure development and long term sustainability of the project MONITOR AND EVALUATION STRATEGY • Develop indicators and strategy to monitor implementation, development and performance of Regional Platform that will allow for project evaluation and modifications as needed	Experts are readily located to facilitate cooperation and integration regardless of geographical or institutional location Social networks are strengthened/developed to enable cooperation and increase efficiencies in the advancement of innovation for health projects and initiatives that represent a Public health priority for the region Platform's implementation and performance is evaluated		current public health priorities and will enable improved communication with similar instruments from other regions

Acronyms
HR: Human Resources
NDF: National Drug Formularies
NHA: National Health Authorities
TOR: Terms of Reference

Document was last modified: 10/15/2010 02:10 PM